

NRM Gateway Content Development Workshop
21-23 February 2001, Louisville, KY (Page 1 of 2)

Kathy Perales (ERDC Principal Investigator for the NRM Gateway) explains website concept and workshop objectives.

Workshop participants interact as they develop content for their areas of subject matter expertise (L-R): Tommy Hipp (Recreation Use Fees) on the phone to coordinate his area's information, as Craig Lykins (Career Development), Mike Loesch (Environmental Stewardship), Debra Stokes (Interpretive Services and Outreach) discuss Career Development content.

Mike Key (Cooperative Law Enforcement Agreements) and Jesse Saylor (Carr Creek Park Ranger in Louisville District Office on temporary assignment) discuss content with Lori Davis (J. Strom Thurmond Park Ranger assisting with the workshop as a member of the NRM Gateway Working Group).

Jimmy Carver (Recreation Leadership Advisory Team) works with Ginny Dickerson (ERDC Environmental Lab Webmaster) to post his content on the website. In the background, the rest of the workshop participants are working individually or in small groups to get their content ready for posting.

Left: Kathy Perales discusses with Mike Loesch (Coordinator of Environmental Stewardship Content – targeted for future development) how he might approach his role as coordinator. Bonnie Bryson (RAMP) and Debra Stokes (Interpretive Services and Outreach) work on content for pages to be included in the April 2001 "grand opening" of the NRM Gateway.

Right: Denise Marmer (Monroe Lake Park Ranger, temporarily assigned to Louisville District Office) discusses workshop logistics with Bonnie Bryson (Coordinator of Recreation Content)

Below: After each participant worked with the webmaster and their content was posted during the workshop, they shared their pages with the group to get feedback for improvements, and to give ideas to those still working on their content areas. (L-R): Carolyn Bauer (Volunteers) and Charlie Burger (Visitor Assistance)
